Good Morning Professor, I should begin by giving you a proper thank you, not only for helping me become a better writer/communicator, but for helping others that took this course originally for the credit hours. I feel most of us students have opened our minds to new literary ideas and can personify concepts revolving around earnestness and effective communication amongst peers and potential employers. I appreciate you giving me the opportunity to have an early completion of the course, I will humbly accept this offer due to the slew of other assignments and finals I should focus efforts on. Now that I have this information a mountain of stress has been lifted off my shoulders and for that I'm forever grateful for having the opportunity to be taught by such an intelligent and inspiring human.
